Non-election

No opposition in general election assures each candidate of a win

BY LIZ HAAS

The city of Bay St. Louis will spend almost $1,000 to pay poll workers for the Tuesday, June 8 general election of unopposed Democratic candidates.

Candidates need only one vote each to be elected.

The city will be using all the same equipment and left over ballots.

"We don't expect a big turnout because this doesn't decide anything," said Municipal Clerk Kay Johnson. "But it would be wonderful if everyone came out to reaffirm the candidates."

Johnson said although the general election seems unnecessary, the city is mandated by law to hold one.

Winners of the May 4 primary election were Eddie Favre as mayor, Charles Scianna for Ward 1, James Thriffley for Ward 2, Tom Farve for Ward 3 and James Rutherford for councilman-at-large.

There was a run-off in Ward 4 between incumbent John Wilkerson and Tad Black, with Black claiming the victory in the May 18 run-off election.

Black is the only newcomer to the city council.

There are four voting locations.

Ward 1: Bay High School on Blue Meadow Road;

Ward 2: City-County Library on Highway 90;

Ward 3: Bay St. Louis Fire Dept. on Old Spanish Trail;

Ward 4: Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall on S. Beach Blvd.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Missionaries

Gulf Coast youths spend summer helping others

BY LIZ HAAS

Ron and Katie Luce, founders of Teen Mania Ministries Inc., bring hundreds of United States teenagers to foreign countries to do mission work.

Several Gulf Coast youths are joining Teen Mania Missions '93 this summer.

Gulf Coast summer missionaries include Michael Cassagne of Pass Christian and Jeremy Kelly of Long Beach, traveling to Panama in June; Courtney Hopper of Pass Christian and Michelle Cassagne of Pass Christian, traveling to Ecuador in June; and Mandy Froman Burns of Long Beach and Jennifer Walker of Long Beach, traveling to India in July.

The teens attended a youth convention, "Acquire the Fire," held by Luce who provided them with information about the missions.

Michelle said, "I wanted to go because I felt a heavy heart for experience," she said.

Michael said, "At the convention I saw all of the poor children on the video and my heart went out to them. I wanted to help them and God put it into my heart to go."

Courtney said, "I wanted to be a missionary and help people in other countries who have nothing. Americans have so much and I want to share that with them."

The June missionaries leave Monday, June 7, for Miami, Fla., for training in performing the gospel in mime and sessions in language acquisition and evangelism.

Teen Mania University, an intensive five-day training seminar, prepares participants for the mission field. They will meet their team of 25-30 teens and a group leader that they travel, work and minister with during the month.

Students will learn a part in the drama, "Allegiance," which uses a soundtrack written by John Lawry of Petra. The allegorical presentation of the gospel will be the main ministry tool.

Each teens will bring a costume for a part in the play, performed in mime.

After training, missionaries will go to their designated countries.

Students will travel to 14 countries including Albania, Botswana, Ecuador, El Salvador, Egypt, Ghana, India, Mexico, Mongolia, Nicaragua, Panama, Russia, Thailand and Venezuela.

Ecuador travelers will go to the capital city, Quito. They will travel to poor barrios and wealthy downtown villages to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Michelle and Courtney said Ecuador, on the equator, has the perfect climate, with 65-70 degree highs in the day and cool nights.

Panama travelers will fly into Panama City. The team will visit wealthy urban districts and broken-down barrios. They will have the opportunity to travel by canoe and hike deep into the Darien jungle to stay with tribal Indians.

Michael said Panama will have warm weather and plenty of rain.

Teams will travel by foot or public transportation to parks, orphanages, prisons, high schools and universities, and will stay in hotels.

All teams meet in Florida for two days before returning home to share their experiences and learn how to take what they have learned home with them.

Bay Fire Department teaches fire prevention, CPR

BY LIZ HAAS

The Bay St. Louis Fire Department believes prevention is the best cure for fire damage.

During the past year firefighters have taught 132 people the stores and companies.

"I find a lack of knowledge is the greatest fear," said Chief Andrew Lizana.

He said, "Quite a few businesses we have trained have put out their own fires family member, a close friend or even someone on the job," said Lizana. "In some jobs, CPR is mandatory."

Anyone interested in fire prevention or CPR classes, call 467-4736.

This year four firefighters have been certified Haz-Mat Technicians at the Mississippi State Fire Academy. They are Michael Willumitis, Rodney Aguzin, Gary Maurice and Richard Trudell. The course teaches students the correct procedures for handling a hazardous materials incident.

Two firefighters, Pedro Williams and Randy Sekinger, are attending an 8-hour course designed to prepare them for Firefighter 1001, the basics to become a firefighter.

From January 1 to May 25, the fire department responded

The fire department offers fire prevention classes for preschool through adults. Seven fire prevention classes have been taught this year to schools,

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome

War of values

Two policemen stood at the door of the church hall to intercept all who were trying to gain entry to the birthday party. One officer held a metal detector. The other simply asked for invitations and frisked whoever walked up.

"This is blowing my mind," I told the officers when I came upon the scene. "I can't believe this is actually happening to children in their mid-teens."

"You'd better believe it," one of them returned. "As hard as it is to swallow, we have no choice today."

We reminisced about Derrick Poole, the 13-year-old killed by neighbors aged 11 and 12 in a well-kept, peaceful subdivision of New Orleans East just a few days before. These were boys who often played football and chatted together.

From the creepiness of that situation, my eyes were drawn to a youngster approaching with a shining chain and huge pendant hanging from his neck. Something in the way of economics seemed grossly out of line there.

Something was. A fortyish-looking man standing near the policemen commented: "That chain and metal are worth a good $1,500. Some chains are more solid and heavier. They are worth as much as $5,000. I know because a friend sells them."

Even as he spoke, a corpulent, profusely-sweating teenager lumbered up, sporting a huge chain and pendant.

"Ummm, that one has the looks of $5,000 or thereabouts," commented the man as if to punctuate the previous remarks.

We nodded as if to agree that it certainly looked that way. Clearly, there was something chilling, disturbing about the whole sight. Those boys were typical inner-city kids who could not afford a fraction of what the chains cost.

We were left no choice but to believe that they or people very close to them were pushing drugs to pick up easy money. There was no trace of shame or discomfort in the face or demeanor of either child, only the look of pride, specialness.

The contradiction and unlikelihood of it all hung heavy over the entire scene. "Where are their values?" most adults would be moved to ask immediately.

They would add quickly in dismay: "I don't see how young people or people of any age can set their hearts on worthless values like drugs and gold chains!"

Values? They had values all right, but their values differ radically from the main values which we claim as responsible human beings, especially as Christians. The obvious problem was that they cherished their values, not ours.

For the first time, I realized the real war of values which exists between many of our youth and the older generation. If there ever was a generation gap, this is it.

For them, a value is the gold they can wear as a result of whatever it takes to get the gold, even dealing drugs or doing prostitution. This value they want and enjoy.

The older generation did not always observe the value of virginity before marriage, but they treasured it. Not even the threat of AIDS accomplishes this in many of our youth.

Value education at home is the severest lack, the root deficiency which undermines all other traditional values. Somehow, the home front must be bonded to church, school and government in such a way that this war of values will be won.

St. George's Anglican holds traditional Episcopal services

Traditional Episcopal services taken from the 1928 prayer book are held each Sunday at 10 a.m. at St. George's Anglican Church on Henderson Point.

The Gulfshore Baptist Assembly has made the Gray Stone Chapel on Highway 90 at Henderson Point available to the traditional Episcopalians that attend St. George's Anglican Church.

The rector, the Rev. Baker Turner, said it was a heart-warming experience to have the concern of other Christian churches.

This new congregation in the Bay St. Louis-Henderson Point area has a service of the Holy Eucharist each Sunday followed by a coffee hour and Bible Study session.

Father Turner reports the Catholic Seminary of the Divine Word also offered space on their campus for traditional Anglican services.

Turner also mentioned that the Rev. Linda Lowry, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Diamondhead, with the approval of her vestry, made a gift of the church's 1928 prayer books to St. George's congregation. She said, "We all want these books to be used."

Father Turner noted that this was an example of the meaning of the words of St. Paul, "There are diversities of administration, but the same spirit."

He said, "As churches, we must all work together to win the secular world to the Gospel of Christ."

In April under the weekend only service 253 people rode the line. From May 9-31, Ballard said 769 persons have utilized the local service.

He credited the frequency of connections to the increase in patronage.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The Diamondhead Performing Arts Society will present three one-act plays, performed by the Gulfport Little Theatre on Thursday, June 10.

The plays are to be "Mirage" directed by Lynda Conwell; "The Taming of the Shrew" directed by Tonya Sanders Hays; and "Graceland" directed by David Delk.

Tickets are $12.50 adults and $9.50 children with curtain time 7:30 p.m. at the Diamondhead Country Club.

Tickets can be purchased by sending a check and self-addressed envelope to: Suite 701, 443 Yacht Club Drive, Diamondhead, MS 39525. For further information, call 255-6042.

There will be no tickets sold at the door.

Sounds like it will be a big theatre night at Diamondhead on Thursday, June 10.

You know, I was rather surprised to hear about the request from a Waveland resident that Waveland Avenue's name be changed.

Having been raised in Waveland, I have lived there for half of my life. It would be hard to imagine Waveland Avenue being changed to Elwood Bourgeois Memorial Boulevard.

I realize that Mr. Elwood Bourgeois was a war hero and gave his life for his country and fought for the freedom Americans share today.

There were many other natives from the Town of Waveland who also saw a lot of action in World War II. A few never fully recovered from the scares received in the war.

Most are dead, and yet a few are still still alive and living today in Waveland. What about them?

Many years ago Waveland saw fit to honor Mr. Elwood Bourgeois by naming the Waveland ball field in his memory as the Elwood Memorial Ballpark, and that name still stands today. So really, his heroic efforts have been recognized.

When the American Legion Post was formed in Waveland, Mr. Bourgeois' name was also used as an honor to him.

Who know, someone may want to change the name of Waveland next!

Today is the last day for the annual St. Clare Seafood Festival.

Events get underway at noon and will end at 9 p.m. They still have a lot of goodies such as seafoods, hamburgers, po-boys, crawfish bisque and fried fish.

The kids really enjoy the rides and many games. I know many of you enjoy Chappy's foods, and he has his own booth this year.

Compretta reappointed to NCSL law and justice committee

Representative J.P. Compretta was reappointed as a member of the law and justice committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL).

The committee is one of 12 standing committees of NCSL's State-Federal Assembly, the National Conference's policymaking body. The State-Federal Assembly is responsible for the NCSL's lobbying efforts before Congress, the White House and federal agencies.

Compretta is chairman of the House local and private legislation committee and former chairman of the joint legislative committee on Performance Evaluation and Expenditure Review (PEER).

Other committee assignments in the House include conservation and water resources;

Good catch

During the summer of 1943, Joe Servat (in photo) and the late Teddy Heitzmann rented a skiff for 50¢ at the mouth of Bayou Caddy and rowed to the south shoreline to make this beautiful catch of speckles. They were using dead bait and 18 foot slaughter poles, Servat said. The photo was taken by Heitzmann with the seawall and mouth of Bayou Caddy in the background. (Photo submitted by Joe Servat). The Echo welcomes photos older than 25 years for publication. They will be returned to the owners.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Teachers leave behind large shoes to fill

Dear Editor,
Remember these lines to an "oldie, but goldie?"
"Where have all the flowers gone? Long time passing;
Where have all the young girls gone?
Long time ago;
When will we ever learn?"
We're gonna have to add another verse to that great song

— where have all the teachers gone?

As an employee of the district I am saddened and concerned by the departure of so many teachers at one time from one school.

It is not only the number that bothers me, but also the professional quality of this group that we hate to lose. Their leadership, dedication and experience as educators was invaluable.

About half of these 15 had invested several years at our school. We must, subsequently, note then that it will be much easier to replace the "number" of positions than it will be to replace the individuals, themselves.

Certainly, they will be missed.

Sincerely,
Sandra Gray

Red Cross needs your help at blood drawing

Dear Editor,

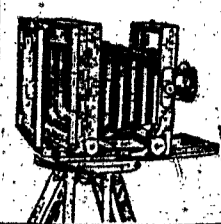

The American Red Cross Mobile Unit will be at the American Legion Home, Post 139, Bay St. Louis, Wednesday, June 9 from 1 to 7 p.m. The quota for the blood drawing is 100 units.

Will you please assist by requesting your members and employees, members of their families and friends who are physically able and 17 years old or older to come in Wednesday and donate a unit of blood.

Please read this at your next meeting, post on your bulletin board, or publish it in any bulletins before the blood drawing and make a personal appeal for this particular drawing.

Your assistance in any way to make this a successful and productive drawing will not only be appreciated, but is essential to those who will need this blood.

Sincerely,
John D. Rutherford Jr.

Blood drive slated Wednesday at Legion

Special to the Echo
With increased highway travel during the summer months, an airbag may save a driver, but a blood donation could save the passenger.

American Red Cross volunteers are encouraging all eligible donors in Hancock County to give blood at the Bay St.

Louis Community Blood Drive Wednesday, June 9 from 1-7 p.m. at the American Legion located on Green Meadow Road just off Main Street.

Blood usage tends to increase during the summer months because people are traveling and spending more time outside. Warm weather activities can lead to accidents that will require blood. There are also more elective surgeries scheduled during summer or vacation periods.

The donation process is a simple and safe procedure that takes approximately 45 minutes. There is also a mini-checkup to make sure your blood pressure, temperature and pulse as well as iron level are all in a safe range.

Donors must be at least 17 years of age, weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health. There is no age limit for senior citizens who are in good health.

Manufactured homes may be purchased with VA loan

By Donald Mauffray, CVSO
Q. May I use my VA home loan guarantee to purchase a motor home?

A. No. Motor homes are not included in the VA loan guaranty program. However, manufactured homes, with or without a lot, are included.

Q. I am a student receiving VA benefits under the Restored Entitlement Program for Survivors. Will I continue to receive payments during the summer if I am not in school?

A. Benefits may be paid for periods of nonattendance or less than full-time attendance if those periods do not exceed four calendar months and are preceded by a period of full-time attendance. Each year, near the end of March, students are sent a Student Beneficiary Report Form. This generally serves the purpose of a re-enrollment certification. Shortly after the fall term starts, students will be required to certify their school attendance. If full-time enrollment cannot be verified at that point, benefits may be terminated the month following the beginning date of the fall term.

Q. Does the VA publish a booklet on benefits for veterans and their dependents?

A. Yes. Each year, VA publishes a booklet titled "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents." The booklet is available for $2.75 from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Superintendent of Documents, Mail Stop: SSOP, Washington, DC, 20402-9328. The stock number is 051-000-00-198-2.

Q. Is there a time limit in which a veteran must use his or her Certificate of Eligibility for a VA guaranteed home loan?

A. No. There is no expiration date on a VA home loan Certificate of Eligibility. Once issued, the veteran may use the certificate at any time. Although the maximum loan guaranty entitlement amounts may increase, it is not necessary to have the certificate updated to reflect the increased amount. This will automatically be done at the time of loan processing.

Q. My husband was killed in the Vietnam Conflict. Am I eligible for a VA guaranteed home loan to buy a house?

A. Yes. Unmarried spouses of veterans who died on active duty after September 1940 or as a result of service-connected injuries are eligible for VA guaranteed loans to buy a home. To apply, you should complete VA Form 26-1870, "Request for Determination of Loan Guaranty Eligibility - Unmarried Surviving Spouse."

Frankie Ford performs Wednesday at Casino Magic

New Orleans music legend Frankie Ford will perform from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Wednesday at Casino Magic.

Ford and show band Dual Exhaust will perform his 1959 mega hit, Sea Cruise, among other songs free for the public in the lobby of the Bay St. Louis casino.

Ford was born in Gretna, La., where he still resides.

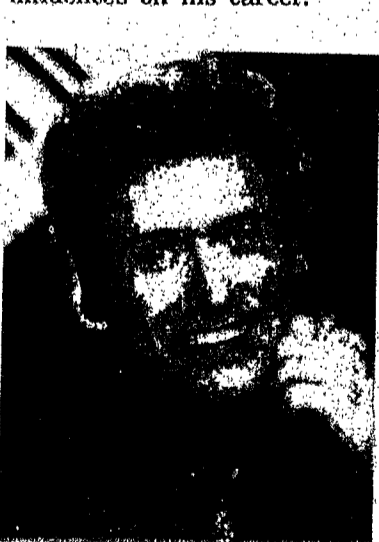

While in high school, Ford joined a band called The Syncopters.

One night after a local gig, Ford was introduced to Joe Caronna, who was the New Orleans distributor for Ace Records.

Ford auditioned in 1958, and Caronna set up Ford's first recording session and subsequent record, Cheatin Woman.

Ford was influenced by the piano stylings of Clarence "Frogman" Henry and Huey Smith. He also credits Ray Charles, Fats Domino and Professor Longhair as important influences on his career.

Frankie Ford

Cheatin Woman was a modest hit in south Louisiana and Ford returned to the studio.

About this time Huey Smith had a song called Sea Cruise. Smith had recorded it but had some problems with settling upon a lead singer for the song.

Johnny Vincent, who owned Ace Records, had Ford overdub his vocals on the backing tracks of Sea Cruise and Roberta, and success followed.

Ford went on to record other songs in the 1960s such as, You Talk Too Much, Alimony, Time After Time, Let Them Talk, Seventeen and Blue Monday.

Ford has performed with almost every major act from the 1950s and 1960s including Fats Domino and the late Rick Nelson.

He presently spends at least 200 days a year on the road.

Tips On Writing EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

• STICK TO THE FACTS

Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.

• BE HONEST

Avoid being untruthful, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers won't help you make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyer's trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.

• SPELL IT OUT

Abbreviations are not easily understood by many people and may even confuse a reader. It only takes them a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?

• THE BOTTOM LINE

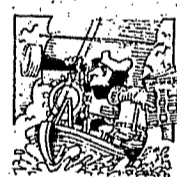

State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.

• BE THERE

List the best hours to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't list a specific time, you could be flooded with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't call back.

• ASK US

If you aren't sure how to word your ad or what features to include, why not ask us? Our professionals on staff know how to create an effective ad that sells, they're always willing to help, and there's no charge!

SCHOOL'S OUT

For Summer! Drive Carefully.

The kids are packing up for summer camp. Or they're looking forward to having some fun at the pool or beach. It's a time for enjoying their summer freedom.

But they sometimes forget to watch where they're going and what's happening around them. So it's up to you, as a responsible driver, to keep a lookout for them while you're on the road.

Let the kids have their fun. Help make it safe for them by slowing down and expecting the unexpected!
